

LLCS/lr

29th October 1960

ISTITUTO DI GENETICA
UNIVERSITÀ DI PAVIA
VIA SANT'EPIFANIO, 14
PAVIA

Prof. J. Lederberg
Department of Genetics,
Stanford, Medical School,
P a l o A l t o (California)

My dear Joshua,

I have received your letter with a number of stimulating suggestions. I shall discuss it later, perhaps by tape.

Montalenti who deals with the Encyclopedia Italiana, writes me that your biography would be urgently needed. Could you let me have it?

I have also received a registered parcel with the book "Some dependent people in the South Pacific". Odd enough, it reached me although the address did not contain the town, (it was addressed to Via S. Epifanio, 14, Italy). The Post Office managed to find me in Milan, which certainly adds to their prestige.

I have mailed separately some copies of my bibliographic list.

Yours,

Luca

L.L. Cavalli-Sforza

Handwritten note:
The book addressed
has been sent to Prof. Cavalli-Sforza
11-2-60 JH